One popular variant in online casinos is the high/low version where the pot is split between the player with the highest hand and the player with the lowest hand. To qualify for the low hand pot, a player's hand cannot have a card higher than 8, though an ace can count at as 1. If no one qualifies for the low pot, then the whole pot is won by the gambler with the highest hand. Those familiar with Omaha hi/lo (Omaha 8-high) will understand these rules, as they are much the same. In addition to the stats and money used, the investigation found that many games can be played for free, without confirming age. By comparison, many online casinos use the free play feature as a selling point, but in this case, the feature is the total opposite. microgaming isle of man address
