In this case, all players remaining in the hand would consider the community card part of their deck. Razz games with serious players do not often have this problem, since most players fold before much betting occurs. Of course the real objective is to win the payouts that predicting and choosing the correct numbers will bring. Since the game of Keno relies very highly on the element of luck, this is not an easy objective to achieve.

Therefore, perhaps a secondary goal could be added – to play Keno for the thrill of the game and to dream about striking it rich.
