In fact this strategy is not convenient for most players. The reason is that many people can not control their losses. Thus this strategy helps not only win much, but also lose a lot. Despite the fact that a player can quit the game at any time, he usually stays at blackjack table and progressively loses all his profit after a winning session. The Progressive-2 strategy can not fight human nature and make the player leave the game while everything is good. And it is even more difficult to stop when trying to return your money. The cool feature in the game is the Sticky Spin feature. You can trigger this with the Wild symbol, which is one of the key symbols in this game. When you land one or more Wild symbols anywhere on the reels, the symbol becomes sticky, hanging on to trigger the Sticky Spins feature. You know this feature has been initiated because the screen fills up with the words 'Sticky Spin!' and the free spin kicks in. The house hold is the percentage of wagers on any blackjack game that the house actually ends up taking – that is, the casino's gross profit. While in theory it should be the same as the house edge, the hold is affected by several factors. A blackjack pays at 3:2 for a player, compared to only 1:1 for the dealer. Players are allowed to split pairs for an increased wager and double their bet on a favorable hand, unlike the dealer. The dealer is required to hit on a hand of 16, while the player can choose to stand.
